The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Valiulis 6,367,749. Note Figure 1, accessory shelves with hanger bars attached thereto.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 3,4,5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Valiulis 6,367,749 in view of Colgrove 5,570,795. Valiulis teaches the device claimed absent the three leg tripod support. To modify Valiulis to include a tripod support as taught by Colgrove as a mechanically equivalent alternate would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention.

Claims 6-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Similar garment racks are illustrated by Stover 1,804,069; Rekow 4,245,578; Robolin 5,370,248; Harris 5,819,961; McNab 6,749,073.
